

Sensoren in Schweden messen erhöhte Radioaktivität

Beitrag von „Ben“ vom 27. Juni 2020, 21:22

Zitat von

https://mobile.reuters.com/article/amp/idUSKBN23X2TN?\_twitter\_impression=true

Radiation sensors in Stockholm have detected higher-than-usual but still harmless levels of isotopes produced by nuclear fission, probably from somewhere on or near the Baltic Sea, a body running a worldwide network of the sensors said on Friday.

Hat jemand mehr Quellen und mehr Infos?